Prayer to the Sacred Heart

O Sacred Heart of Jesus,
I give myself to You.
Take all I do,
all my joys,
and all my sorrows.
Take all of me.
I want to be all Yours,
and do all things
for love of You.
Help me to do only what pleases You.
Please make my heart like Yours.

We encourage others on their faith journeys to join us in giving witness to our Catholic faith and to grow as disciples.

An American Saint who lived close to Newton!

St. Rose Philippine Duchesne was born into a wealthy family in France on August 29, 1769. From an early age she had a desire to evangelize as a missionary in the Americas. After surviving a bout of smallpox which left her slightly scarred, she joined the Visitation of Holy Mary religious order in 1788. When revolutionaries shut down the convent, she tried to continue to live their rule of life at her home. In 1804, she met St. Madeline Sophie Barat and joined the Society of the Sacred Heart, making her final vows in 1805. In 1815, she was sent to Paris to found a Sacred Heart convent there. On March 14, 1818 at the age of 49, she and four sisters were sent as missionaries to the Louisiana Territory to establish a presence of the order in America. Diseases contracted during the voyage nearly killed her. After recovering in New Orleans, the trip up the Mississippi River nearly killed her again. She established her first mission at Saint Charles, Missouri, beginning the first free school west of the Mississippi River. She started six other houses in America, which included schools and orphanages! Her students received a good education! She was concerned about the plight of Native Americans, and much of her work was devoted to educating them, taking care of their sick, and working against alcohol abuse. She evangelized the Pottowatomies and taught the young girls of the tribe. She could not master their language, so she had to quit. She was known by the tribe though, as the "Woman-Who-Prays-Always". She died on November 18, 1852. She was beatified on May 12, 1940 by Pope Pius XII, and canonized on July 3, 1988 by Saint John Paul II. She is buried at the shrine in St. Charles, MO, about a 5 hour drive from Newton!

A STEWARDSHIP MOMENT

A thought or two on stewardship in the Sunday readings

Thirty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time November 15/16, 2014

In today's Gospel, Jesus delivers the parable of the talents; using the example of money rather than abilities or skills. It's a story about investments, risks and returns. Stewards understand that God has given them an abundance of spiritual gifts. They know God doesn't want them to simply receive these blessings and bury them in fear, but to multiply them; to use these gifts to serve Him and others; to spread Christ's Good News; to go and make disciples of others. Good stewards invest what God has given them in the service of others and are prepared to render an account when the Lord returns. Reflect this week on how you are returning your own God-given gifts back to God with increase.

"You all know that I have been sustained throughout my life by three saving graces - my family, my friends, and a faith in the power of resilience and hope. These graces have carried me through difficult times and they have brought more joy to the good times than I ever could have imagined."

Marriage Moments

What does your spouse do that makes you laugh? Often it's the silly idiosyncrasies or foibles that can be special precious moments between you. Do you know much about your spouse's deceased relatives? Spend some time remembering and telling stories about the holy people in each other's past. They may not have been perfect, but they are still family.

Parenting Pointers

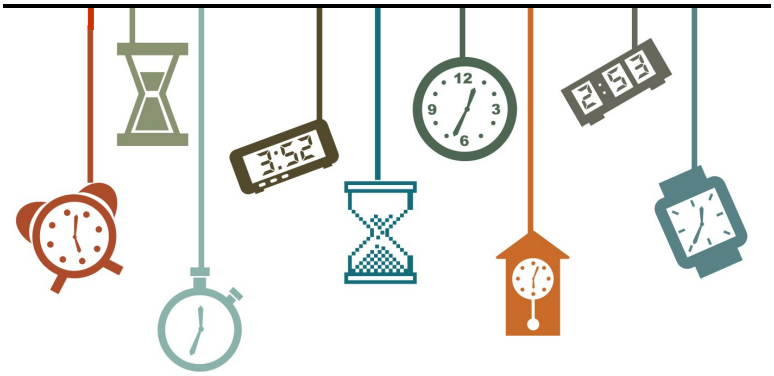
People are more important that buildings. Yet buildings shelter us. We gather in religious buildings to remind us of our faith and to worship together. Take a tour of a church with your child. Explain the artwork, symbols, holy objects, etc.

By Susan Vogt, www.SusanVogt.net

dear Padre

How long should Mass be?

How long Mass is supposed to last? My sister leaves after an hour even if the priest is still talking. Shouldn't she stay until it's over?



There's no rule about how long Mass should last, but it's inappropriate to arrive late or leave before the final blessing or the end of the recessional song. People should leave early only if they get sick or if they're doctors, police officers, and fire fighters called away for an emergency.

Weekend activities should be scheduled around Mass. Saturday night Masses were designed for people who work Sundays and for parishes with too few priests to accommodate everyone on Sunday—they weren't designed to make it easier to get a good tee time on Sunday morning.

It's also important to remember that local customs and traditions affect the length of Mass. When I worked as a missionary in Brazil, Sunday Mass could go on for nearly three hours. When I celebrated Mass in Scotland, the pastor said I had to be done in a half hour.

Most areas have more than one church. Encourage your sister to either grow accustomed to the tradition of the parish she attends or look for another church. As a rule, I don't think it's good to "shop around" for Mass, but if your sister is that bothered by the length of the Mass at her current church, it might be better for her to go elsewhere.

The Library has The Handbook of Indulgences: Norms and Grants that states what indulgence are, the conditions for granting them and if the indulgence is partial or plenary.It lists in alphabetical order the prayer and practices that have indulgences attached to them. If you want to know the exact prayers and practices that can gain indulgences, you will find this book very useful to your prayer life and the souls in Purgatory.

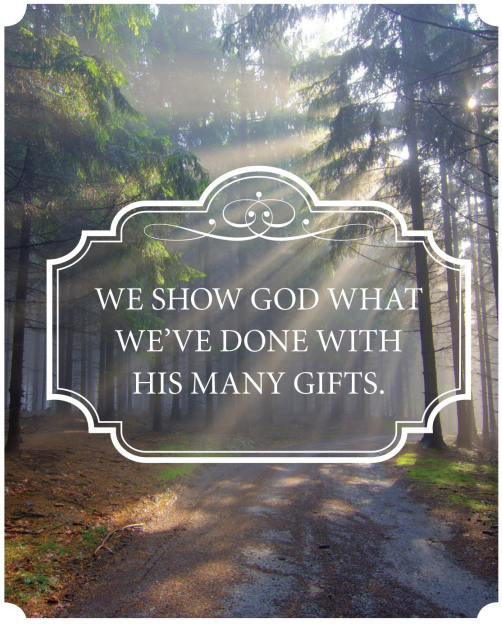
GOOD NEWS

November 16, 2014
33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

Prv 31:10–13, 19–20, 30–31 / 1 Thes 5:1–6 /
Mt 25:14–30 or 5:14–15, 19–21

"Stay awake." My siblings and I used to huddle in our rooms on Christmas night, determined to stay up for Christmas dawn. We'd inevitably fall asleep, awakening around dawn to find the presents already around the tree and Jesus in the manger.

"Stay awake," we would say again on New Year's Eve. This got a little easier as we got older and beat on pots and pans to celebrate the New Year.



Special occasions call for special wakefulness. We anticipate, we watch, we try to glimpse the first signs of the holiday, birthday, or first day of vacation. These are important to us, and we don't want to miss them.

"Stay alert," Paul says to us. "Prepare for the Master's return," Jesus says to us. At the end of the Church year, everything is about watchfulness. We reflect on the end times, when Christ will return in glory to judge the living and the dead and draw all creation to himself.

What happens in the end? We show God what we've done with his many gifts. We behave as children of light and refuse to fall asleep (a metaphor for turning away from God) so we'll be found waiting when Christ comes again. We keep the faith, knowing our hope is in the Lord.

When we were children, the temptation to fall asleep was great; we didn't always make it to the first minutes of celebration.

As adults in faith, the stakes are much higher. If we fall asleep here, we may miss the party altogether.

Let's encourage one another while we still have time.
